Enosi Life Sciences announced that it has appointed Dr. James Woody as its Executive Chairman. Having immense leadership skills, Dr. James holds over 25 years of experience in the pharmaceutical, venture capital, and biotech sectors. He also possesses medical expertise in antibody therapeutics and oncology.

Dr. Michael Shepard, the President of Enosi Life Sciences has a lot to talk about the new leader of his company. He states, “It requires an extensive level of knowledge and creativity to improve therapeutics for autoimmune diseases and cancer. Therefore, I’m confident that collaborating with Dr. James as the Executive Director is just like adding an experienced leadership to the company.” He also added that James Woody holds expertise in diversified areas. That includes medicine as ...
